Stop the presses!! It's the famous Clark Bar Superhero Sweepstakes!
Okay, all you characters out there. Here's your big chance to be a real character. Comic-book style.
You don't have to buy anything. Or do anything, except to mail us the Famous Clark Bar Superhero Sweepstakes entry blank with your name and address.
To find out what could be in it for you, just read on.

FIRST PRIZE
If you're lucky enough to win the first prize, Clark will fly you and your family (limit of four people) to New York City and back. You'll stay for three days and two nights. All expenses paid.
We'll take you on a tour of the Marvel Comics offices, so an artist can draw you into an upcoming issue of your favorite Marvel comic book. You'll be part of the action, right along with one of Marvel's famous superheroes.
You'll have plenty of free time in Gotham, too. For seeing the Statue of Liberty, or taking boat rides, or just looking up at tall buildings a lot and saying "Wow!"
And, when your comic-book adventure is published, we'll send you 15 copies for your family and friends. They'll be proud to know a famous person like you.

SECOND PRIZE
If you're one of 20 second-prize winners, you'll get your own famous Superhero watch. Pick Batman, Wonder Woman, Superman, Spider-Man, or (if your taste runs to supervillains instead) the Joker. The watches are Swiss-made, with full-color superhero pictures, and would normally sell for $19.95 to $23.95.

Hi! I’m Snooper, the super duper detective from THE QUICK DRAW McGRAW SHOW. For all of you mystery fans out there, I’ve got a mystery for you. Who was the first detective in any of Hanna-Barbera’s FUNTASTIC WORLD OF CARTOONS? If you say Scooby-Doo, you’re wrong. I, yours truly, Snooper, was the beginning of the many mystery adventure shows in the Hanna-Barbera family of cartoon films.

Remember me, with my Sherlock Holmes hat, trench coat and magnifying glass? Sure, you do. I used to hunt for fingerprints and other clues in tracking down the bad guys and solving crime mysteries. I wasn’t alone. I got some help from my little buddy, Blabber Mouse. Maybe we didn’t get too much notice or a lot of publicity but that was because we worked undercover a lot.

Another early James Bond type detective was my Hanna-Barbera family friend, Secret Squirrel. He was an expert at solving foreign agent mysteries. He was able to get in and out of difficult situations with a variety of exotic scientific crime fighting gadgets. He too had a faithful partner, the clever and sneaky Morocco Mole. Together they never let a mystery go unsolved.

Then, of course everybody knows Scooby-Doo, the giant dog detective and mascot to four high school students, two boys and two girls, who form the club known as MYSTERY, INC. They seek out and find mysteries and suspense, thrills, and harrowing experiences in almost every situation. They’re right at home in deserted mansions, ghost towns, haunted houses, museums and other assorted spooky places. Freddy Jones is the leader. His amateur inventions are sometimes very intricate devices which help solve baffling mysteries. Shaggy Rogers is a bit of a bumbler, but manages to help out in his own way.

Daphne Bleka, rich and e supplier of needed equipment, is often a victim of her own curiosity. Velma Dinkly is the brain of the group and her computer-like mind often comes up with the right answers.

The greatest Chinese detective of all time was part of Hanna-Barbera’s mystery mix, and that was Charlie Chan and the Chan Clan. Charlie and his number one son and nine other kids solved mystery after mystery. How to handle ten children in one half hour cartoon was a problem, but they all had their contributions to make in solving the mysteries.

The smallest, but not the least of the animated detectives was Inch High, Private Eye. He comes straight out of the Nuclear Age. Inch High has the power to shrink himself to miniscule siza by the use of his rare secret formula. He is aided sometimes by lovaly Lori, Gator and Braveheart, a timid St Bernard Crime-solving cases are dished out by chief of investigation, Finkerion. When his orders are given, Inch High and his companions are on the job. As he conducts his close-up investigations, the fingerprints he finds are often as big as he is.

Another mystery character in Hanna-Barbera’s super sleuth group is Goobie. The special dog has unusual ability, that he can appear and disappear. Goobie and his ghost-chasing chums are sent on their assignments by a central computer. Goobie often gets into a lot of problems in his ghost-hunting quests, but he muddles through somehow, and in the end, he brings the sneaky spooks to justice.

Did you think that’s all of the mystery-solvers? No way! How about that snickering hound wearing a griny trench coat and driving about in a beat-up car? Well, that’s Detective Mumbly. The chief sends him out on a case and Mumbly goes about in his crazy jalopy as he looks for clues. After almost driving his chief wild, Mumbly does come through and solves the crime.

There are more! Two dogs, Woofers and Wimpers, are clue-seeking companions of some teenagers who use all kinds of special equipment in solving crimes. They have radio and TV communications between their sport car and headquarters. Woofers usually has most of the crimes all figured out before the kids. At least, he thinks he does. Wimper listens to Woofers’ ideas and patiently puts up with them even though he knows that old Woofers is usually wrong.

Still more. The three bears, known as the CB Bears are detectives disguised as trash collectors. They travel through the country in their beat-up rubbish truck. They encounter a wide range of strange happenings which finally get solved after a series of comedy capers.

More yet, for there is the pachyderm of a thousand faces, Undercover Elephant. Master of corny disguises, Undercover moves incognito as he roots out notorious rascals. His clever disguises are often messed up by his assistant, Loudmouse, who usually blows Undercover’s cover.

I wonder if I’ve missed any Hanna-Barbera’s mystery-solving cartoons. I’ll snoop around and find out. Ahhh! I think I have another mystery! What will be the next detective-type cartoon in Hanna-Barbera’s FUNTASTIC WORLD OF CARTOONS?
